Safe Blowers at Sturgis—Sent Up For 15 Years—Uniforms for Lafayette Band—Baby Accidentally Killed—Wages to Be Restored.

The Lafayette Silver Band.

Although the above named band has only been organized a few months the players are well up in their parts and make excellent music. They have progressed so nicely that it was decided at a recent meeting to procure uniforms, and accordingly last week an order was sent to a Philadelphia house for suits for the seventeen members and they are to be made and delivered by March 1. The outfit will consist of Metropolitan fatigue coats made of pale green cloth with silver trimmings, tan pants, and Gilmore style caps with the significant letters "L. S. B." on the band. The drum major's suit will be Prince Albert style with head gear to match, including plume, etc. The members of the band now have two regularly employed teachers and there is no reason why in a short while Lafayette should not boast of one among the best bands in the State. Their new uniforms will cost about $225, one hundred of which has been donated by the town for that purpose. Lafayette, although an old town, is progressive still, and is keeping right in the swim with other towns of its size more favorably located.

Their Wages will be Restored.

The receivers of the C. O. & S. W. road will restore the amount due on the salaries of the road's employees, for last October, on account of the 10 per cent. cut when the salaries of the employees were cut 10 per cent. About a year ago an agreement was made with the men that as soon as the earnings of the road for any month should equal or exceed those of the corresponding month of the previous year the 10 per cent. would be restored. The 10 per cent. was restored on the November salaries, and as the earnings of October, 1894, were greater than those of the corresponding month in 1893, the receivers agreed that the employees were entitled to the 10 per cent. for that month as well, and all of them will get their "excess" money in a few days.

Revival in Jail.

Smith Young, who is confined in the Louisville jail, and who has the death sentence hanging over him for an outrage committed upon a child some months ago, is doing some telling religious work among his fellow-prisoners. He is holding prayer-meetings regularly every afternoon and is making converts rapidly. As a result of his efforts nearly a dozen prisoners have professed religion and will be baptized in the jail this week. He is said to be very much in earnest about his work, and seemingly has no thought of getting a commutation of his sentence. He thinks he will certainly be hanged and says he wants to do all the good he can before he is taken away by the command of the law.

Work of Safe Blowers.

Safe blowers again blew open the railroad company's safe at Sturgis last Sunday night. They drilled into the door and blew it off with powder. About a year and a half ago the same safe was blown open, the thieves securing between $300 and $400, most of which belonged to the agent Mr. H. L. Blake. This time they got much less, the exact amount not being known. The work was evidently that of professionals and no clew was left by which they could be run down.

Not the Right Man.

An inquiry has been received from Mrs. Mary E. Stars of New Albany, Ind., describing her husband W. F. Stars, who has been absent three years, and asking if his description suits the unknown man buried here January 22. Coroner Allensworth has notified her that the man was not her husband. Stars was an Irishman, and the dead man was German.

Dr. Brown Returns.

Dr. Manning Brown, who has been in New York for several months, taking a post-graduate course in diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat, returned Wednesday night and has resumed his practice, better equipped than ever for the successful treatment of his specialties.

The End of a Romance.

Last June in Robertson county, Ky., Thos. Woodward arranged to elope with Miss Emma Rankins, but when he came for her Miss Emma backed out. Miss Edna, her younger sister, who had considerable romance in her nature, proposed to take her sister's place and let the elopement proceed. This was done and in the darkness Woodward did not detect the change of girls until they had reached Carlisle and had been married. The groom concluded that "One of the name was as good as the same" and the young couple went to his home and began house keeping. All went well for two or three weeks, when Mrs. Woodward became dissatisfied and returned to her own home. The sequel is a divorce suit just filed at Mt. Olivet, which Woodward will not resist. The girl is only 18 years old and Woodward is 22.

Fifteen Years for Rape.

Last Tuesday in the criminal court at Clarksville, Tom Williams, col., was convicted of rape and sentenced to the penitentiary for fifteen years. He was charged with a brutal assault and the wonder is that he did not get a chance to test the strength of hemp. It is not thought he will ask for a new trial.

A Sad Accident.

Newton Lewis started from Warren to Edmondson county on horseback last week. He had his wife and baby with him on the same animal. On their way through the country the horse stumbled and fell and the mother and child fell off. The baby was killed and one of the woman's arms was broken.

Some Peaches left.

Mr. W. H. Whitlow, of Casky, who has the largest peach orchard in Christian county, says he has carefully examined his trees and to his surprise found that one variety had enough living buds to make a fair crop of fruit unless killed hereafter. Mr. Whitlow is the only fruit raiser who has so far reported a single live peach in the county.

MATRIMONIAL.

Hon. Posey D. Ball, of Henderson, and Miss Anna C. Frazee, daughter of Dr. Frazee, who represented Mason county in the long legislature, were married at Maysville, Feb. 25. They are touring through the South.

LAYNE-ROGERS.—The friends of Mr. Chas. H. Layne have known for some time that he was on the verge of matrimony. For a year or more he has devoted a great deal of attention to a love affair that seemed to grow worse all the time. Tuesday afternoon he concluded to wind up the affair and Miss Amelia Rogers, the young lady in the case, accompanied him to Clarksville and they were married, by Rev P. A. Sowell, at the Arlington. It was not an elopement, but merely a short pleasure trip and wedding combined. They returned the next day and have since been kept busy receiving the congratulations of their friends. Mr. Layne is a prominent and successful business man, handsome, popular and highly esteemed. His bride is an attractive and lovable young lady, whose many admirable traits have made her a general favorite wherever she is known. They are assured of the KENTUCKIAN's best wishes for their happiness and prosperity.

COOPER-DICK.—Mr. Will D. Cooper, of Lafayette, and Miss Bessie Dick, of this city, surprised their friends by driving over to Clarksville late Monday evening and getting married; the ceremony was performed about 1 o'clock a. m. Tuesday by Rev. P. A. Sowell, of that city. They returned to Lafayette the following day, where the groom is in business with his father. Mr. Cooper is a brother of Mr. R. E. Cooper, of this city, and is a young merchant of fine promise and excellent business qualifications and withal an estimable gentleman. His bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Ben Rawlin and has been regarded as one of the prettiest of the younger set of Hopkinsville's girls. She has frequently visited her sister, Mrs. W. E. Ragsdale, jr., at Lafayette, where she met Mr. Cooper. It is now quite evident that all of the latter's frequent visits to this city of late were not for his brother's benefit. The principal object of the elopement was to give a romantic turn to their wedding.
